Information available

The information on this Website is intended to provide general guidance. The information on this Website is not intended to replace any tax advice or other professional advice. Users bear the risk of, and will be responsible for, any financial consequences that may ensue from using the information provided without first obtaining further verification or further advice.

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. at all times has the right to alter the information and data on this Website (including this disclaimer) without further notice. We recommend that you regularly check whether the information on this Website, including this disclaimer, has been amended in order to keep yourself optimally informed of any changes.

Using this Website

Users of this Website may store, print, analyse, and (partially) copy data and information on this Website solely for their own use. Users of this Website are not permitted to publish, distribute or alter the information provided on this Website, nor are they permitted to provide said information to third parties in any other manner whatsoever, without the prior written permission of Dutch Tax Returns B.V.. Dutch Tax Returns B.V. reserves all rights, including any and all registered property and intellectual property rights, as well as the rights to all unregistered trademarks, copyrights, texts, logos, and all graphics pertaining to the information and services presented on this Website.

Exclusion of liability

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. does not in any way guarantee the availability of, access to, or use of, this Website. Although Dutch Tax Returns B.V. undertakes to provide up-to-date, correct, and complete information, Dutch Tax Returns B.V. neither explicitly nor implicitly guarantees that the information provided on this Website is up-to-date, correct, and complete. Users of this Website accept that the sole and exclusive responsibility for accessing and using this Website lies with them, as does the responsibility for using any information made available on this Website.

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. does not have any control over and is not responsible for third-party websites containing links to this Website, nor for the contents of those websites.

This Website contains links and access to other websites maintained by third parties. Dutch Tax Returns B.V. accepts no responsibility for the contents of these third-party websites, nor for the quality of the services and information offered on these websites.

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. in no way whatsoever guarantees the security of this Website, particularly with respect to the possibility of whether unauthorized third parties can gain access to the data that users enter via this Website, and whether that information can be intercepted and/or manipulated. If information provided via this Website is also provided in writing, the written version will prevail in the event of inconsistencies between texts.

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. does not guarantee that e-mails or other electronic communications will be received and processed in a timely manner, and does not accept any liability for the consequences of the non-receipt, late receipt, non-processing or late processing of such e-mails or other electronic communications.

Dutch Tax Returns B.V. does not accept any liability whatsoever for any damages, costs, expenses, or loss of income that either directly or indirectly arise from the fact that the information on this Website has not been maintained, amended, updated or deleted, the failure to properly maintain this Website, from making this Website available to users, or the use of this Website by users or third parties, from being able to access other websites through this Website, or from the proper or improper functioning of the equipment, programming software and/or networks that are used in connection with the access to and use of this Website.

This exclusion of liability also extends to members of the board, partners and employees of Dutch Tax Returns B.V. and affiliated companies.
